Allied Entry Into Wonju Driven Out

TOKYO, (Thursday), Jan. 11 (U.P.)—An allied task force operating under orders to "kill everything that moves" got a toe-hold in Wonju Wednesday, but a wild charge of 10,000 red infantrymen threw the United Nations troops back out of the city.

The U. S. second division's tanks fought their way into southeastern Wonju through a mountain blizzard. At the same time an infantry force of American, French and Dutch tried to drive a wedge into the southeastern section of the city. They were stopped a mile from Wonju. Then the reds struck. Ten thousand of them hit the second division spearhead and forced it back out of the city.

United Press Correspondent Joe Quinn with the second division reported that at midnight Wednesday the communists were pouring out of Wonju in an attempt to annihilate the allied forces.

Ignore Losses

The United Nations troops fell back under protection of an interlocking mortar and machine gun fire. An American artillery barrage joined the fire in an attempt to halt the reds but they charged through despite what Quinn called staggering losses.

The communist counter-attack wiped out a four hours gain of about three to five miles made by the United Nations troops in two days' hard fighting.

Delaying Action

The second division attack was regarded more as part of a delaying action against the advancing reds than a full-fledged counter-offensive. Red tanks already have infiltrated 30 miles southeast of Wonju.

The eighth army as a whole appeared to have halted its retreat at least temporarily and thrown up a new defense line across Korea against 26 red divisions—250,000 men—poised for an apparently imminent offensive.

Delay Advised For Full State Building Plan

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—Because of the "materials situation," Gov. Len Jordan did not recommend immediate construction on any of the $7,209,830 in requested state building.

However, the governor in his budget to the Idaho legislature today, requested that $2,000,000 be transferred to the state building fund from the general fund.

"In view of the present materials situation, I cannot presume to recommend any individual projects requested at this time," the governor said in a footnote. "If the materials situation clears, first consideration should be given to the water tank at the university (at Moscow) and the laundry at hospital south (in Blackfoot)."

The university had asked $175,000 for erection of a water tank and $120,000 was asked for the new laundry.

The budget reported an unappropriated balance of $2,287,363.49 in the permanent building fund.

Two buildings, not requested to cost more than $1,000,000, were included in the budget requests. They are a $1,400,000 for a state office building at Boise and $1,350,000 for a new tuberculosis hospital at Gooding.

Other buildings and estimated costs requested included:

Home economics building at University of Idaho, $600,000; law building

Jordan Urges High-Pay Tax Aide for State

From AP and UP Reports

BOISE, Jan. 10—Creation of a new $10,000-a-year job as tax attorney was proposed by Gov. Len Jordan in his budget presented to the Idaho legislature today.

The governor would be the second highest paying state job. The salary would be topped only by that received by J. E. Buchanan, president of the University of Idaho.

The tax attorney would serve both the state tax commission and tax collector's office—50 per cent of his salary being paid by the commission and 70 per cent by the tax collector's office.

The governor is paid $7,500 a year.

Proposed pay raises for supreme court justices, the attorney general, public utilities commissioners and other state officials were rejected however.

He passed on to the legislature pay raise requests for the state purchasing agent, the state inspector, occupational license director and others.

The supreme court budget requests had proposed an increase of $1,000 a year to $8,500 for each of the five justices. A similar increase to $8,000 was sought for the attorney general and a $2,000 a year raise to $6,000 was asked for each of the three public utility commissioners. The latter were also proposed by the governor.

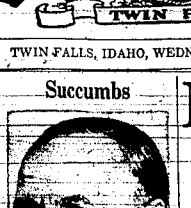
The state purchasing agent would get a pay increase from $3,600 to $4,800 a year, under the governor's proposal.

Higher

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (U.P.)—Higher prices for 13 commodities this week sent the Dun and Bradstreet wholesale food price index soaring nine cents to $7.07, the highest level in more than 38 months, the agency reported today.

The index for the week ended Jan. 9 compared with $6.93 a week ago and $5.76 a year earlier. It was the first time the index topped the $7 mark since Aug. 17, 1948, when it stood at $7.07.

Succumbs



A heart attack following pneumonia proved fatal today to Sinclair Lewis, famed novelist and first U. S. winner of the Nobel prize in literature.

Seizure Takes Life of Famed U. S. Novelist

ROME, Jan. 10 (U.P.)—Novelist Sinclair Lewis, 65, first American to win the Nobel prize in literature, died of a heart attack today in a clinic where he was recovering from pneumonia.

The famed writer, whose best novels were satires on America's "main street" middle class, died at the Villa Eletta clinic at 7:40 a.m. (1:40 p.m. MST), 10 minutes after the attack.

Lewis, who made "Babbitt" a dictionary word, was attended by Dr. Bastiono Fiume, director of the clinic.

He entered the hospital last December suffering from pneumonia," Fiume said, "but up until last night he seemed to be recovering well. He knew he had been suffering from a bad heart for several years. An attack came at 7:20 this morning without warning. He was dead in 10 minutes."

Fiume said the attack came so

Senate Demos Rally Support For President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Senate Democrats rallied today to support President Truman's program of helping western Europe man its defenses against possible Soviet aggression.

Chairman Connally, D., Tex., of the senate foreign relations committee; Senator McFarland, D., Ariz., the Democratic leader, and Senators Douglas, D., Ill.; McMahon, D., Conn., and Fulbright, D., Ark., all spent the week agreeing for the Truman foreign policy debate.

To strengthen the President's position—under vigorous attack by some Republicans—Douglas proposed that the senate act affirmatively on the question of furnishing troops for Europe and on defining similar policies for Asia.

Taft Raps Force

Senator Taft, R., O., told the National Press club yesterday the administration concept of operations under the North Atlantic treaty includes "a complete international army." He added that "anybody who says we shouldn't send a soldier to Europe is accused of repudiating the Atlantic pact."

"Now we are asked to commit ourselves without further consideration ... not only to a large army to be established and stationed in Europe as a part of a great international army, but also to submit the entire commanding position in that army—the initiative for the entire army," he said.

... Could Bring War

Taft, who heads the senate GOP policy committee, said establishment of such a defense force on the Russian border would mean "a likelihood of being war than it is ever to bring peace."

"I am all in favor of saying definitely to the Russians," Taft declared, "if you attack western Europe, you will find yourself at war with us."

He said the question is "How can we best protect Europe?" His answer was for the United States to build up its air power that can dominate the world."

Decision Not Set for Meat Control Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Price Director Michael V. DiSalle said today the government has not decided yet on whether to put price and rationing controls on meats.

He made the statement to newsmen after meeting with representatives of the meat industry. The industry objected to controls, contending they would invite shortages and delay into the hands of black marketeers."

DiSalle said the matter of stabilizing meat prices still is under study. He emphasized, however, that he was not ruling out the possibility that controls might be invoked.

DiSalle said the meat industry arguments against controls have "a great deal of substance." He added, however, they did not "change the overall situation."

The industry suggested increased production as an alternative to controls.

It said meat production could be stepped up 12 per cent over the next two years and from 25 to 30 per cent within the next three to five years.

With such an increase, prices could be held at the present levels without controls, industry spokesmen said, providing government monetary and fiscal policies limited increases in consumer incomes to 10 per cent.

Senator Dworshak made public a letter from Michael DiSalle in which the price director wrote:

"The stabilization of wages without a check on the cost of living has

Handicapped Children Survey Planned Following Public Meeting on Problem

A request for a survey of handicapped children in the county will be made to the Twin Falls county board of education Wednesday by Mrs. Doris Stradley as a result of the public meeting concerning exceptional children Tuesday night.

Members of the audience and panel participating in the first of a series of meetings on child mental and emotional health expressed a belief that determining the scope of the problem through a survey would be the first step toward improving the situation. Means of obtaining funds for special facilities for children unable to attend regular classes also was discussed.

In stating the need for action on the problem, Mahlin S. Hansen, Filer high school teacher, one of four panel speakers, pointed out that an estimated 15 percent of school age children was unable to benefit from public school instruction because of deafness, blindness, low intelligence or some crippling defect.

As an example of needed services, Mrs. E. L. Enright, supervisory nurse for the south central district health unit, revealed that 43 students were pieced up receiving speech corrections last year. However, no aid for the students could be obtained in this area.

Mrs. Knight suggested that one method of aiding children on crutches and in wheel chairs would be to consider them in future school construction and provide first-floor facilities for their training.

Aid for handicapped children is up to citizens and parents, Hollis Jackson, county attendance officer, stated. He told of visiting homes where school-age children have never attended school and would not profit by attendance. Special aid outside the public school must be forthcoming for badly crippled and mentally retarded children, he added that they may develop as much as possible, he said.

Drawing upon his experience as attendance officer, he related that many adolescents now in schools of

Marshall Asks Immediate Drafting of 450,000 U. S. 18-Year-Olds for Service

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—The defense department called today for the immediate drafting of 450,000 18-year-olds to build up the armed forces.

Secretary of Defense Marshall and Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, assistant secretary, outlined the proposal to a senate armed services subcommittee in urging immediate enactment of a universal military service and training program making all physically fit 18 year-olds liable for 27 months service.

Mrs. Rosenberg said unless the armed services can call on the 18-year-olds they will have to ask congress to let them draft young married men. In that case, fathers, as well as husbands without children, might have to be called from the present 19-26 age brackets. They now are exempt.

The proposal from the defense officials lined up in this manner:

1. Enact long-term legislation aimed at requiring training and service of all physically and mentally fit young men beginning at age 18.

2. Until that program can be handled, take the 18-year-olds who are now nearest their 19th birthday.

Marshall, former army chief of staff and former secretary of state, was the first witness at what Chairman Lyndon Johnson, D., Tex., of the subcommittee said would be a several hearing on manpower problems.

Under the present draft law, boys of 18 are required to register but they cannot be drafted until they reach age 19. There is no draft for induction is limited to 21 months.

The present draft law expires next July 9. The senate subcommittee hearings are aimed at developing such questions as how long the law should be extended and with what changes.

Marshall said he felt 18-year-olds should be called for actual service and combat.

"The program proposes that young men reaching the age of 18 fulfill their obligation for the nation's defense by entering the armed forces for 27 months of service and training," Marshall said. "Immediately thereafter they would serve for a specified term in a reserve component."

5,000-Acre Irrigation Project Near Castleford Being Studied

Plans for the development of a 5,000-acre irrigation project northwest of Castleford were announced here Tuesday by Ed White, Salmon, a mining engineer previously residing in Oregon. He said he and his associates plan for the development ultimately to be an 8,000-acre project.

Estimated cost on a 5,000-acre basis is $443,000 exclusive of leveling and lateral canals, with $700,000 estimated on an 8,000-acre project. White said there will be no stock or shares plan, as the backers hope to finance it through direct loans from a few individuals or government agencies.

Others associated in the project are Henry Crown, former Buhl farmer and sheepman now owning and operating a locker plant at Leadore, Ida.; Ted Rosser, Pocatello, civil engineer formerly residing in North Dakota, and Michael F. Barrett, mining man at Leadore.

Plans Estimated

Making up the $443,000 estimate, in the preliminary feasibility report by James A. Higgins and Associates, Inland consulting engineers, are pump equipment, $80,000; storage dam, $100,000; pipelines, $53,000; diversion dam, $45,000; five miles of main canal, $30,000; land clearing, $25,000, and engineering, legal and promotion expense, $90,000.

Higgins' report is based on a 100 per cent pumping project for 5,000 acres, the maximum area which can be irrigated from the flow of Salmon Falls creek during irrigation season assumed for the report. He stated he believes it is feasible on pumping alone, it could be much more attractive with combination of gravity flood waters from Devil's creek, Clover creek and others.

Dam Planned

A gravity diversion overflow diversion dam and pumping station would be placed on Salmon Falls creek about four miles west of Castleford. Water would be lifted through a 42-inch pipe into a canal winding about five miles to a reservoir and storage dam five miles west of the dam, three miles of Castleford, with the irrigable area fanning out about 10 miles northwest of the dam.

The feasibility report lists an estimated cost of about $110 per acre exclusive of financing but including preliminary clearing and lateral canals. Annual operating costs are estimated at $15 per acre, including

President Will Seek Cost-Balancing Tax

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said today President Truman will call on congress this week to raise taxes enough to balance the budget.

Snyder refused to give any figure on how much taxes that would involve or how much the budget will be for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. There were indications elsewhere that a tax hike of perhaps $20,000,000,000 or more—a jump of nearly 40 per cent in present taxes—would be necessary.

The treasury chief told reporters the President will lay down a full "pay-as-you-go" policy in his economic report Friday and his budget message next Monday. This, Snyder said, will be followed by specific tax boosting recommendations in a special message before Feb. 1.

The President's recommendations will deal with fiscal 1952, beginning July 1, which will be the first year in which the speeded up rearmament program will show real impact on the budget.

The President is going to say that the taxes to protect revenues would be levied to balance the budget," Snyder added.

Earlier talk on capitol hill had focused taxpayers might get a year's breather before taking on any new tax burden although the chairman of the house ways and means committee said the expects new levies to be enacted by midsummer.

Senator Anderson, D., N. M., said in a speech "high and responsible officials" have discussed the possibility that $10,000,000,000 to $15,000,000,000 a year would have to be raised through a national sales tax.

"Breathing spell" talk was aroused on capitol hill by a remark yesterday by Senator George, D., Ga., chairman of the senate finance committee. He said "there is no assurance" work on a new tax bill can be completed this year.

A member of George's committee, who declined to be named, told a reporter "that would mean a year's breather. And it would probably be a good thing—if we find that we can afford it. I doubt that we can, but I won't make issue of it at this time."

Air Spotters Posts Sought In Full State

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—The western defense command asked aid of the state of Idaho today to organize and staff as many air raid spotting posts as possible to augment the army's existing facilities.

Gov. Len Jordan promised Idaho's "full cooperation" with the request of Lieut.-Col. S. E. Matthews of the WADC. The governor said the state will make "every effort to organize watching posts and keep them operating."

Col. Phillip Doddridge, state director of civilian defense, indicated at a conference with the governor and Colonel Mathews today that organization would be initiated on a regional scale with six proposed regions.

All work connected with manning the air raid spotting posts would be voluntary. The defense command said it would like to have them throughout the state as close as within 10 miles of each other for full grid coverage, but Mathews said the command understood "it might have to get along with less, especially in little populated areas."

Mathews said the primary requisite for a watching post would be merely the presence of a telephone, some sort of shelter and about 20 volunteer workers for each post.

Previously the defense command had asked for a series of air raid spotting posts through northern Idaho, stretching from Weiser to Coeur d'Alene. But now, said Mathews, it wants the entire state blanketed.

Attendance Is High at Farm Institute Meet

RICHFIELD, Jan. 10—Approximately twice the usual number of farmers attended the morning session of the Lincoln county farmers institute here Wednesday as attended the opening session Tuesday night.

Less than 100 farmers and their wives were present Tuesday night to listen to D. R. Theophilus, dean of the college of agriculture, University of Idaho, speak on building Idaho's agriculture to conform with world needs in the present emergency.

Vere Smith, extension soil specialist, also spoke at the meeting Tuesday night.

The Wednesday session opened at 10 a.m. with 150 persons attending.

Jack Easterly, extension nutrition specialist, and Nada Phleger, home demonstration agent-at-large, addressed the women's section and Vernon Ravenscroft, extension forester, and Ronald W. Portman, extension entomologist, spoke at the men's section.

Ravenscroft discussed the

Canal Firm Renews Opposition to CVA

Their last year's resolution expressing "unalterable" opposition to a CVA or similar federal control was readopted Tuesday by stockholders of the Twin Falls Canal company at their annual meeting. The resolution will be sent newly elected legislators from this area.

Stockholders also named R. P. Parry, Frank L. Stephan, N. V. Sharp, Filer; Will L. Hawkins, Buhl, and Everett M. Sweeley as a committee to prepare and send a resolution opposing Hell's canyon dam unless provision is made for Idaho irrigation matters.

Hansen and Kimberly Grange, resolutions citing the wartime threats to hinder dam and the company's canal system and calling for guards and floodlights, were discussed but no action was taken.

Re-election terminated all five directors of the company to office for another year.

Reelected directors and the vote they received are Sharp, 196,086.83; W. A. Colmer, Hansen, 117,804.83; Don Sturtevant, Twin Falls, 116,866.16; Stephan, 116,866.16, and Al Kramer, Castleford, 109,883.02.

Readoption of the anti-CVA resolution was urged by Joe Marshall, Idaho potato king, after a report by Parry on the matter was answered by Sharp, a reclamation leader and one of the company's directors.

Sharp said he felt the last election gave CVA proponents a "good thrashing" in Idaho but said a legislator from Washington would file a new bill for a CVA. Sharp said this had not been expected and might be delayed by wartime emergencies.

He said, "Our only fear is what could happen through executive order," under wartime powers given the President. He explained "the possibility of creation of agencies which could have the general effect of a CVA." We must watch every step," he warned.

Sharp said he sees the interior department's Hell's canyon project as the most serious threat to irrigation in the west. He explained the City Manager Tells Club of Plans in T. F.

A review of current improvements and plans for the future in the Twin Falls parks and recreation program was given for members of the Twin Falls Lions club Wednesday noon by City Manager W. H. Rees. These included:

In keynoting his talk, Smith said, "Planned recreation for children means less trouble for grown-ups and a more significant life. Recreation for grown-ups supplies the strength-giving tonic to renew rapidly energies, and it fills in a big part of the picture which makes life really worth living."

Explains Operation

He explained the parks and recreation operation in Twin Falls has been reorganized with a single superintendent. Four supervisors report direct to the superintendent. These include parks divisions, headed by a foreman of parks, recreation program headed by a director of recreation; municipal golf course, headed by a manager-pro, and swimming pool, headed by a pool manager.

Smith said that in addition to regular maintenance and upkeep of areas and facilities, the city has added 12 improvements during the past year, these involving:

Improvements Noted

Modern rest rooms for South park; fencing of Beach tennis court at Shoup and Pierce; walk way, retaining walls and landscaping at the swimming pool; bleachers at the new baseball and softball diamond; covering large portion of the lateral running through Harmon-Jaycee park; removal of the old swimming pool at Harmon park; removal of old tennis courts at Harmon park and moving playground equipment on to the old court space; removal and grading former roadway at Harmon-Jaycee park; preparation of the uncultivated area at Harmon park for planting grass; planting trees and shrubs at Harmon park; steel fencing of the park and viewing at Shoshone fall and construction at the Rapids.

Smith said future plans include planning for acquisition of new parcities, planning facilities in present and new sites, provision of new equipment and other facilities and establishment of a planned recreation program.

Rapids Needed

He pointed out Twin Falls needs at least two more parks, including which should be at least 10 acres in size. Those parks would include picnic, playground and softball

Registration for All Medical Men Under 50 Slated

All physicians, dentists and veterinarians under the age of 50 will register for selective service in a special registration Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, it was announced today by Dr. Ralph Bandy, state director of selective service.

The only medical personnel not included from the registration are those who have completed their registration for medical service, Dr. Bandy explained.

Registration will be conducted by members of the state medical advisory committee.

PTA Seeking Winter Items; Teacher Help

A plea for warm clothing and overshoes for Washington school pupils was issued by Mrs. Rodney Teare, president of the Washington school PTA, at the regular meeting of the group Monday evening. Mrs. Teare said the clothing is needed badly at the school.

In other business she announced C. E. Roberts, jr., will represent the Washington PTA on the safety council. She also announced that Cub Scout groups are being organized by the PTA and urged all women who can be den mothers to call her.

Mrs. Richard Robertson, Mrs. Glen Jenkins and Mrs. Arthur Dahl were appointed members of the nominating committee. Room mothers reported that 565 Christmas treats had been given to children of the school. Each teacher had been given a corsage.

Mrs. James Horn discussed legislation to increase Idaho teacher salaries. She commented that Idaho will face a shortage of teachers if something is not done soon about salaries.

Arthur Kleinkopf, assisted by Don Blakeley, demonstrated visual education as it is used in schools. He said visual education has been used very successfully by the armed forces in World war II.

Nan Soden played two piano solos and Sheila Tucker presented a tap dance. Refreshments were served by room mothers.

is being hurried as a source of electric power only, without consideration to irrigation.

Will Mean "Curtains"

"If it is authorized without provisions for irrigation or a power allocation for Idaho, it will mean curtains on this state's irrigation," he warned.

In discussion, stockholders pointed out the Hell's canyon project would block construction of five smaller dams in the same area, planned by the Idaho Power company to produce as much or more power and still provide for irrigation.

If the Hell's canyon project were completed, Sharp pointed out, the government could call for water from upstream which, in dry years, would mean additional irrigation projects would be left dry.

Other Business

In other business stockholders discussed revision of the ditchrider system, which Manager Al Peters pointed out is not being rushed. He said he and the directors are working with the watermasters to establish a system to remove inequities among the ditchriders and provide better and faster service to farmers.

He said an additional lateral canal will be given ditchriders this year. In supplemental discussion, Sharp explained the firm has as many ditchriders now as it did in horse and buggy days.

Farm Union's Juniors Given Travel Prize

Eleven Idaho Farmers Union Juniors have returned from a trip to Denver, Colo., sponsored by the National Farmers Union. The young people started the trip from Burley and took up 20 members in the organization.

Making the trip were Margaret Aitken, David Blessing and Paul Moseley from Jerome county, Darlene Birkbuh, Alberta Clapp, Gary Jones and Ray Jones from Lincoln county, and DeWayne Anderson, Dorothy Ludwig, Robert Ludwig and John Tracy from Minidoka County.

The juniors were accompanied on the trip by Doris Smith, education al fieldworker, and Richard Axtell, fieldman for the Utah-Southern Idaho Farmers Union.

In Denver the Idaho Juniors, along with 100 young people from other states, visited the National Farmers Union offices, the Denver Post, the Central Bank, the Museum of Natural History, and also were presented to Governor Johnson while touring the Colorado state capitol.

The young people also heard talks by James G. Patton, national president of the Farmers Union; Gladys Talbott Edwards, national director of education, and other National Farmers Union officials.

Irrigation of Arid Area Is Under Study pumping power, $10, other operation and maintenance, $5, and equipment fund, $2.

This does not allow for power tax rebates, April 15, 60 starting May 10, 10, 200 Filer avenue, collided at 4:44 p.m. Tuesday at the intersection of Harrison street and Filer Avenue.

Water Needs Set

He estimates water requirements as being 3.5 acre-feet per acre, 25 starting April 15, 60 starting May 10, one each starting June 10 and July 10 and .65 starting August 10. He estimates pumping requirements as 48 kilowatts for each cubic foot per second, for a total monthly demand of 1,728,000 kilowatts costing $8,000 per month.

The consulting engineer's plan is to pump 3,000 acre-feet per month, costing $42,000 or $0.50 per acre. He estimates demands at 2,500 in March 10, 1,250 acre-feet on April 10, 3,000 on May 10, 5,000 each on June 1 and July 1 and 3,250 on Aug. 10. Storage needs for the corresponding times would be 3,000, 4,750, 4,750, 2,750, 750 and 500 acre-feet.

Ample Good Land

Higgins states there is ample high class land available in the area with water supply being the limiting factor. While he adds that soil analyses have and are being made and states some of the soil is as deep as 14 feet with freedom from rock. While said-little-leveling would be required as the ground is about level with enough fall—one foot per 100 feet—for drainage. He said leveling can be accomplished at low cost.

Higgins' report states a fair storage site has been surveyed to the 20-foot height, for capacity of 1,500 acre-feet. He estimates the capacity would be 5,000 acre-feet at the 35-foot height, and White added the dam can be built as high as 50 feet. The dam would contain about 80,000 cubic yards of dirt fill.

Natural Reservoir Site

White described the location as a natural reservoir site set up several years ago by the Bureau of reclamation. He called it a good one, and said there is no question but what it will hold water. He said there was a reservoir there in the early days, later washed out by high water.

Higgins' report, on the basis of scanty flow records, recommends installation of pumps just below Salmon reservoir, at the proposed diversion point and on Devil's creek.

Other costs in the consulting engineer's report include $48,000 for the 42-inch pipes and fittings for the penstock and $15,000 to complete that structure. The five-mile main canal is estimated for a capacity of 80 cubic feet per second. Preliminary land clearing is estimated at 45 per acre.

200 Tracts Planned

White said the ultimate plan calls for 200 tracts to be sold after development of the project. The land is owned by the government for use under the Taylor grazing act. The four men formed the Blue Gulch Irrigation company, and are seeking to have the land set aside.

White gave Crown full credit for envisioning the project, explaining Crown had been working on it 12 years with no help. The other three men came in five months ago through their mining and engineering associations. White declared, "We consider it better and safer than mining," adding the men have outright ownership of several good mines.

Roads Planned

Since the consulting engineer's feasibility report was prepared Jan. 3, the group has learned the power will cost less than anticipated. White said he is looking for no difficulty as to the site's accessibility, explaining the group intends to put in access roads with the project.

Assisting the group with economic planning is Harry Dewey, Idaho State college professor. White said Dewey has had wide experience in irrigation, served with the bureau of reclamation, and, like Higgins, will stay with the project until it is completed.

A. M. Hudson, 73, Claimed by Death

Armstead M. (Cap) Hudson, 73, veteran of the Spanish American war, died about 8 a.m. Wednesday at his home in Twin Falls. He came to Twin Falls from St. Anthony upon his retirement 10 years ago.

He was born Nov. 7, 1887, in Bloomfield, Green county, Ind. During the Spanish American war, he served as a sergeant. He was a captain in 1916 in the National guard at St. Anthony where he went to farm from Indiana.

He was deputy sheriff for Fremont county for two terms and St. Anthony city clerk for 10 years. The late Mr. Hudson was a member of the St. Anthony Masonic lodge.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Rosa D. Hudson, Twin Falls, and four children, Mrs. Glen Baird and F. M. Hudson, both Filer, and Mrs. E. H. Hillman and Wood K. Hudson, both Twin Falls.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by the White mortuary.

correction would be useful citizens if their emotional problems had been met at home and through special help.

Dr. Bernard L. Krelkamp, last panel speaker, stressed inability in the home to solve emotional upsets in the child's life which often result in undesirable character traits. Adult education classes in this area would aid the problem, he stated.

According to Dr. Krelkamp, many characteristics are ingrained in the child before the age of 5 and school may have little effect toward changes. Community adult classes could help parents how to protect, too much attention, domination or other attitudes permanently affect the child, he pointed out.

During the audience participation period which followed the panel discussion, A. W. Morgan, superintendent of Twin Falls schools, stated that funds for aid to handicapped children might to difficult to obtain since Gov. Len Jordan in discussing school budgets, "In fact," he added, "he may fix funds so that we cannot take care of normal children."

Mr. Morgan also requested citizens to notify legislators that cuts in the school equalization fund and teachers' retirement fund would be detrimental to education.

Mrs. Thomas R. Hovenden, chairman of the sponsoring Lincoln school PTA parent education committee, acted as moderator and announced that three other meetings on aiding mental and emotional health of children would be held in the near future.

Pioneer Resident Claimed by Death

JEROME, Jan. 10—Cordelia Ferris Cushman, 85, one of the first settlers in the Grand View community north of here, died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hazel Wyckoff, Tacoma, Wash.

Mrs. Cushman came to Jerome with her husband in 1912 and had been very active in civic affairs. Her husband, James E. Cushman, and a son, Aaron Cushman, preceded her in death.

Mrs. Cushman was born Feb. 11, 1865, near Savanna, N. Y. She and her late husband were married Dec. 22, 1887, at Harrington, Kans., and in 1900 moved to Dalhart, Tex., from where they came to Jerome.

Survivors include her daughter, two sons, Palmer Hill Cushman, Salt Lake City, Utah, and James Ferris Cushman, Los Angeles, Calif., two grandsons and four great grandsons.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Presbyterian church with the Rev. William Perine officiating. Burial will be made in the Jerome cemetery under the direction of the Wiley funeral home.

Buhl Youth Hurt In Korean Fight

BUHL, Jan. 10—Word has been received here that Pfc. William L. McCauley, 20, an enlistee in the marine corps, was wounded in Korean action. However, he has been evacuated to a hospital in Japan.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell S. McCauley, route 2, Buhl.

The youth enlisted in September, 1948, according to the family. He attended Buhl high school and worked on the family farm prior to going in the service.

Private McCauley, in a letter to his parents, said he was shot in his left hand, that his hand had been frozen and that he was wounded in the left side and about the back and legs by shrapnel.

Last Year Is Termed Good For Idahoans

Last year was a good one for Idaho's workers, businessmen and farmers, A. J. Meeks, manager of the Twin Falls office of the Idaho state employment service, said Wednesday.

Referring to compiled statistics of the ISES, he pointed out that 1951 employment was relatively low during the year and farmers were able to get sufficient labor to harvest record crops.

Late Start Noted

The year started out with scarce job opportunities as bad weather lasted most of the first half of the year. Outdoor labor activity did not get started until late in May.

However, when the bad weather broke, employment went up sharply. The unemployment total of 18,000 in February had dropped to 2,631 by Oct. 1.

Record Crops Grown

Record crops were produced by Idaho farmers in spite of fewer workers seeking farm jobs. A combination of use of mechanical harvesters, imported Indian workers and favorable fall weather made the harvest a success.

According to Meeks, the Korean war had little effect on employment in Idaho in 1950. The armed forces took relatively few men during the year and recruiting of defense workers was on a small scale. The few defense recruiters who toured the state held out for workers with high qualifications.

Jobs Found

The employment of handicapped workers in the state was gratifying, the ISES local manager explained. Of 1,297 handicapped workers on file during the year, employment was found for 1,256.

Unemployment at the end of 1950 in the state was 39 per cent lower than at the beginning of the year.

Shortages Expected

The outlook for 1951, according to Meeks, is that the state will face general manpower shortages. Many jobs will have to be filled by older workers, women and the physically handicapped as they were during World war II.

The expanding needs of war industry will cut the usual flow of workers into the state. However, if the domestic manpower is not sufficient, a force of 250,000 farm workers may be brought to the United States from Mexico, the British West Indies, Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Plan to Avert Meat Control Offered U. S.

little chance of success. Since all foods and particularly meat are important factors in the cost of living, they must at the proper time be brought under control if a program of stabilization is to serve the purpose for which it is intended."

Disalle's letter to Dworshak was in reply to one in which the senator suggested a revival of meat rationing and controls might again bring black markets, unsanitary slaughtering and waste of byproducts. Dworshak also sent to DiSalle a letter from Leon L. Weeks, in which the secretary of the Idaho Cattlemen's association had advised against meat price control.

DiSalle replied:

"It is true that the complex nature of the livestock and meat industry is such that careful consideration must be given to any program of controls and all the aspects and problems must be dealt with. This we hope to do."

Recruiting Drive Started by National Guard; Officer Reports on Advantages

A recruiting drive to build the third battalion of the 116th armored cavalry, Idaho national guard, to authorized strength is under way in Magic Valley, Lieut.-Col. Richard Elliott, battalion commander, said Wednesday.

He said the recruiting drive will continue until March 31 as part of a national drive to build up the national guard. The six companies of the battalion in Magic Valley have a great deal to offer young men in the area, he added.

He issued a special recruiting appeal to young men who are liable for induction under selective service or who are considering voluntary enlistment in the armed forces.

Young men who enter the regular armed forces are able to attend a service school for technical specialties, Elliott said, when there is a quota available for members of the armed forces, Colonel Elliott explained. But the national guard is not restricted by quotas for the same service schools and can send any qualified applicants.

"This 'combat' training is a definite asset to both the individual and his military unit, the officer added, and presents a golden opportunity for men who enlist in the national guard.

All companies of the third battalion lack specialists such as mechanics, radio technicians and operators, code personnel, administrative personnel, intelligence personnel, supply personnel and cooks and bakers.

According to Colonel Elliott new enlistees in the national guard will have the opportunity to attend army service schools to meet this lack of trained personnel. Rated positions in the battalion are open to those who qualify for them through attendance at service schools.

In addition to openings for service schools and advancement, the third battalion offers pay for drills, he said. The unit is authorized about 36 more pay drills between now and June. A member of the battalion receives a full day's pay for his grade for each pay drill attended.

Another factor young men consider, he explained, is that present selective service policies provide for deferment from induction for active members of the national guard. Members go to active duty when and if the unit is mobilized and then they serve with the Magic Valley men they have known in the battalion.

The companies of the third battalion are reconnaissance companies in Buhl, Gooding and Burley; tank company, Rupert; howitzer company, Hailey, and battalion headquarters company, Twin Falls.

Complete information on enlistment in any of the units of the battalion can be obtained at the national guard armory, Twin Falls labor camp.

AN AMAZING LETTER

James F. Lincoln, president of the Lincoln Electric company at Cleveland, Ohio, is quite an amazing individual.

Not only is he recognized as one of the country's leading industrialists, but his success in labor relationships is notable.

As we recall, his firm has never experienced a strike of any kind. His employees are paid on an incentive basis and their average earnings are reported to be the highest in the land. Because of the opportunity to earn on a basis commensurate with their effort and ability, Mr. Lincoln's employes give him greater production at low cost which makes his product not only good but highly competitive to the public's advantage.

We cite all this background merely as the basis for calling attention to a very remarkable letter which Mr. Lincoln has written to the Cleveland Press. Since the Press carried the letter it has caused widespread discussion. It reads as follows:

"There is much question at the present time as to what should be done about the mess in Korea. Has anyone thought of approaching the matter in a perfectly honest and straight-forward way?

"First, admit that we are the aggressors and that we have no business invading Korea or any other country. Second, bring back our army to America. Third, pay the damage that we have done in Korea.

"In order to do this, the following program would be necessary:

"First, impeach Truman as a war monger who ordered the invasion of Korea by illegal action, without reference to congress, who under our constitution, only can declare war.

"Second, if the dangers of invasion from Communistic Russia are in any sense true, which is doubtful, build up our home defenses and don't weaken ourselves by a war on the other side of the world.

"Third, go to China and Russia, after showing our honesty by the above action, and tell them we are not war-strikers; that the one thing we want to do is to live at peace and in cooperation with all nations. State the fact that the invasion which took place was contrary to the desires of the majority of the American people who, under our representative form of government, should have, and will in the future have, control of our acts.

"In doing this we will not lose face, will not kill our sons, and if we are fearless in our honesty, we will achieve a lasting peace with all the world."

We know this letter will be highly controversial and we are not printing it as being representative of our sentiments. It is unusual, however, coming from such a highly responsible individual who has set a good many people to thinking.

WATCHDOGS ARE NEEDED

It's being proposed that congress create a committee paralleling the famed Truman senate war investigating committee which saved American taxpayers many millions of dollars during and after World war II.

True enough, we are not now at war. But we are appropriating record peacetime sums for defense. Responsible leaders believe we must keep a close check on how that money is spent. They argue that past experience demonstrates that fraud and waste are otherwise unavoidable.

No standing committees and no existing special committees in congress now perform that function. Nor do any have the time, the staff or the money to do the job.

In the special field, the nearest thing to that kind of group is the senate Johnson committee. Its task, however, is to keep a weather eye on the country's preparedness effort and speak out whenever it discerns a dangerous lag.

The regular house and senate appropriations committees may manage some investigation into expenditures as part of their job of voting funds. But essentially they must concern themselves with plans for new outlays rather than with what has happened to older ones.

Because money wisely and honestly spent on defense contracts is translated into badly needed tanks and guns and planes, the careful policing of arms spending is plainly a matter calling for a statesmanlike, non-political approach.

As the plan is now being considered, that objective seems clearly in view. Senator Ferguson, Michigan Republican who played a key role in the old Truman committee, is suggesting a 10-member group evenly divided between the major parties. Should the house set up its own group or take part in a joint committee, a similar division is a strong possibility.

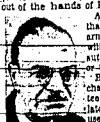
When the average citizen recalls the scandals and often colossal waste uncovered by the Truman committee, he must look forward impatiently to the creation of a new watchdog committee to safeguard his tax money.

Once a defense program really gets rolling, its size and speed of operation inevitably bring waste in their train and provide powerful temptation to many seeking a big killing.

Just the mere fact that a special investigating committee exists would act as a deterrent to fraud and a spur to efficiency. For every man involved in a defense contract would know that any slip he might make could easily be front-page news in some future congressional hearing.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—An anti-Truman coalition far stronger and more ruthless than any previous new deal-fair deal opposition on capitol hill has taken control of all legislation, federal finances and taxes out of the hands of President Harry S. Truman.



Ray Tucker

Almost the only role left to him is that of communications director. Out the 82nd congress will give him all the money and authority he needs for rearmament and the conduct of the war. But congressionally imposed changes in leadership and committee memberships enable the legislators to determine the size of that war power and collect the taxes for unprecedented peacetime expenditures.

POLITE — It has been a most peculiar revolution in that it was polite and even punctilious. Only a few political recriminations have been made between the Truman partisans and the enemies.

Barring a few references to the fair deal's "socialistic program," which is admittedly dead now, there has been little public parade of guard that fought a losing battle for the White House.

LEADERS—The actual leaders at the eastern end of Pennsylvania avenue, although not the nominal rulers in each instance, will be Sens. Robert A. Taft, Ohio, and Harry F. Byrd, Virginia, in the senate, and Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Massachusetts, and Rep. Edward Eugene (Gene) Cox, Georgia. This quartet pulled the strings behind the opening week's maneuvers.

Three of the four are personal as well as political foes of Mr. Truman. He has said "there are too many D-y-r-d-s" in the senate. He regards Taft as the architect of most of his 1945-1950 misfortunes. He thinks Byrd would be out of his democratic mind. House Minority Leader Martin has the loyalty of remaining friends with political enemies, but that does not influence him in his anti-White House role.

BLOC—Another result of the great 1951-52 rebellion is that the southern producers and farmers' bloc now sits in the legislative saddle. In alliance with similarly minded men from the mid-west, southwest and far west, they have routed the city-consumers' group far more disastrously than they had anticipated.

The "liberal" O'Mahoney-Spurkman slate in the Texas democratic primaries lost to the McFarland-Johnson ticket by a 30-15 vote. It is doubtful if the lines between two regional groups were ever so sharply drawn in recent years as in this contest.

POWER—The deep south now holds 11 chairmanships in the senate, with the other four going to the far west. The north Atlantic seaboard area and the midwest have none.

In the house the south has 12 chairmanships, the north has only three and the midwest four. But even this more advantageous position is offset by the fact that the anti-Truman faction returned to the rules committee its historic power to veto-hole-legislation displeasing to the 13 ultra-conservative members of the committee.

SIGNIFICANCE—It is obvious that not a single one of the many new deal-fair deal measures so popular in the cities and with the O'Mahoney-Spurkman-MacMahon group has any chance of floor consideration, not to mention favorable action, under this sudden shift of the center of political gravity.

Far more than legislative significance is in this challenge. It reflects and possibly forecasts a reorientation, if not a revolution, within the Democratic party.

Southern and allied conservatives have served notice that they are willing to endanger Democratic possession of the White House rather than aquirm under the presidential leadership of a man with Harry S. Truman's politico-economic philosophy.

PLANS—To add to President Truman's troubles, a powerful and skilful leader capable of mobilizing this antagonism outside the halls of congress—in short, in conventions and at the ballot boxes—may appear next week in the person of James F. Byrnes, former representative, senator, supreme court justice and secretary of state in the present administration.

Byrnes has invited a distinguished group of Washington officials, legislators and veteran newspaper correspondents to his inauguration as governor of South Carolina at Columbia next week.

It is understood that a large contingent will attend, not only in the expectation of hearing another "economy galley slave" blast, but also to ascertain whatever plans he has for leading an anti-Truman movement between now and 1952.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

THE PRICE OF FAILURE

It will take time and the benefit of expert discussion to comprehend all the implications of the first report just released by the President's water resources policy committee. Some sections of it are already under attack. More seem likely to be as various organizations read the document's 445 pages from the standpoint of their immediate interests. And we would be the first to say that out of such intensive criticism much that is constructive and useful can come.

But nine reports will have served an excellent purpose if it should succeed only in dramatizing one inescapable thesis: That the utilization and conservation of the nation's water resources present a problem that must be seen as a whole; that the nation must work toward formulation of basic policies into which regional and functional plans can be integrated.

This is not to argue for any particular form of "valley authorities" or administrative agencies. It is simply to recognize that what is done to improve navigation on a river system affects what can be done in the way of irrigation around the headwaters and the control of floods nearer its mouth; that very little can be accomplished with water at all without going into problems of forestation, erosion control, and pollution by cities and industries.

The threat of communism has made many Americans shy away from the very idea of planning, without stopping to ask: What kind of planning? There has already been a great deal of planning in connection with water usage. The trouble is that such planning often has been piecemeal and insufficiently coordinated—geographically, functionally, and administratively.

What Americans do about their water resources has a very heavy bearing upon their future as a nation. Surely it is not too much to expect that they can think big enough about the problem to produce policies which will at once make the best use of their particular values in individual enterprise and harmonize that enterprise with the common stake in conservation. The price of failure could be a nation short of topsoil and water, both.—Christian Science Monitor.

GOODBYE GIRARD DAVIDSON! WE'RE TICKLED PINK

The best news to come out of Washington, D. C., this week so far as the northwest is concerned was the resignation of C. Girard Davidson, senior assistant secretary of the interior.

During the past several years Davidson has been the spokesman in Columbia river basin at the expense of taxpayers attempting to cram a Columbia Valley administration down the throats of residents of Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Montana and Utah. The CVA proponent was never able to get any appreciable united support for his socialistic programs.

Residents of the northwest have repeatedly turned thumbs down on CVA. The best indication of public opinion has been exemplified by the defeat of practically every candidate that ran for office who advocated CVA.

In all probability defeat of CVA proponents in the November election was just too much for Davidson to be decided to toss in the sponge.

We're happy about "Jebby" Davidson's resignation and feel that a huge majority of the residents in the northwest feel the same way.

We hope Davidson meets with every success when he returns to his law practice in Portland, and we also hope that he forgets about CVA.—The Gooding Leader.

LIKES THOSE PICTURES

Dear Potso:

I would like to express my appreciation of the pictures by Mr. Blasbee of the days when Twin Falls was younger.

I am not an oldtimer, as I did not arrive in Twin Falls until February, 1914. (via the stork), but I certainly remember the old railroad to Shoshone falls. The height of my young ambition was realized the time I made the exciting trip from Twin Falls to Shoshone falls and return via the train.

Mr. Blasbee should be more than commended for his photographic history of Twin Falls. Let's have more pictures.

FLOOD THE MARKET

Dear Potso:

Whatcha wanta do, flood the market with pennies? Why, if everyone who read that little item in your column about getting pennies back in circulation gathered up all the pennies around the house and spent them, folks taking money to the bank from stems would be loaded down with good.

Anyway, with prices the way they are, it seems incredible that anyone would bother to even pennies into a drawer and forget about them. It takes all you can scrape together to keep ahead of the wolf.

Dear Pot Shots:

If "Justa Sucker" is really interested in some action by the so-called leaders of this nation, all he has to do is let them know what he wants.

We can blame no one except ourselves in the last analysis. If our leaders don't lead. Let them know what you want. Then if you don't get it, replace the leaders at the next election. And keep right on replacing them until you do get what you want.

To fit ballet into movies, the standard "boy meets girl" plot will have to be changed. It will probably be switched to "boy meets girl . . . boy loses girl . . . boy finds girl . . . boy loses girl."

It's traditional for ballet dancers to have Russian names. And right now a lot of ballet dancers have names for the Russians.

Just in case my studio wants to star me as a ballet dancer, I put on my tights and went to see Arthur Murray. He told me that though my heart was with Pavlova, my hips were still with Marjorie Main.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 10—The communists have not exhausted the libel suit as a weapon of blackmail and suppression. But, as the treason becomes more fla- grant to the people who serve on juries, the jeopardy of the patriot who speaks out diminishes. However, efforts have been made to "muzzle the press by other means in such cases.

Westbrook Pegler

In Washington recently, Sen. Paul Douglas, Illinois, a Democrat, of investigated against severe treatment of small shines in public conduct.

It would be easy to agree with Senator Douglas if he would admit that the censor has been a specialty of a whole corps of professional blackguards in the service of his own party.

A senator of real stature would not have hesitated to name the notorious rascals who rushed out of cabinet meetings to blab malicious distortions to the jangsters of underworld journalism, for their evil conduct was a matter of common knowledge long ago.

Unquestionably this infidelity has been responsible for the debasement of professional standards with editors shaking the guilt of course.

A senator of real stature, who ventured to address the subject at all, would not flinch from exposing the conspiracy which poured forth on the radio and in print such a vile torrent of lies about the late Jim Forrestal, in the interests of an unseen foe, that he was driven out of a window to his death.

But we see here a want of the same force and courage that Sen. Joe McCarthy, a Republican, has shown in unmasking Drew Pearson.

Douglas sees an evil, he complains of it, but he pulls back from the fight which McCarthy boldly began, knowing he would be smeared by every knave in the congress and in the corps of correspondents.

Senator Douglas thought President Truman's letter to a journalist who withheld from his daughter praise which she did not deserve, was a gross exaggeration of a trivial indiscretion.

He should have let that one rest. In that letter the President revealed aggressive criminal instincts, for he would have maimed the man by a felonious attack upon his person.

That would have been the crime of mayhem. Has any other President of the United States expressed such brutality and moral ignorance? And was it not important that the people be informed of his character and of the criminal implications?

In New York of recent times the same tendency has been expressed in the courts in communist cases. In the first trial of her friend, Alger Hiss, charged by constricting implication with treason against the United States, Eleanor Roosevelt flagrantly interfered to help.

"Day by day, as the defense attorney in the trial of Alger Hiss brings out facts about Whittaker Chambers as a witness, one cannot help but wonder how admirably that gentleman should be believed at all.

"He has now admitted that he perjured himself before the grand jury and before the house committee on un-American activities . . . He seems to have no hesitancy about telling unsavory facts about his private life which make him seem less and less valuable as a witness. One gets the feeling that Mr. Chambers is on trial and not Mr. Hiss."

On the contrary, "one" got "the feeling" that Eleanor Roosevelt was on trial along with Alger Hiss, for he was her friend and her late husband's accomplices in historic affairs which yet may prove to have sealed the doom of the United States.

Moreover, Chambers told "unsavory facts" about his private life as a patriotic sacrifice whereas this one had told many revolting facts about her family not for any patriotic purpose but to make money out of her books.

But the final fact of this citation is that she wrote this plea to reach the notice of the pure, knowing that an uncertain proportion of the American people are incapable of intelligent judgment when the name of "Roosevelt" is invoked.

The counsel for Hiss ignored this impudence.

But a few days later the same lawyer told the judge that we were paying too high a price for freedom of the press when a factual journalist covering the trial wrote pointed questions to a Soviet spy, asked the court to admonish the reporters not to discuss such cases 'on the eve and during the course of a criminal trial.'

In support of his proposal, Chandler cited a magazine article by former Judge Rifkind on this subject, a copy of which is submitted herewith.

Army Answer Demanded for Pearson Data

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Senator McCarthy, R., Wis., has challenged the army to tell whether columnist Drew Pearson is being allowed access to secret military messages at the Pentagon—and if so, why.

The army said it is investigating.

This latest flare-up in the continuing row between the senator and columnist grew out of a Pearson column Dec. 30, which purported to show that the Chinese communist army fighting in Korea is a good deal smaller than had been reported.

Pearson attempted to prove this by printing what he said were cables from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters.

In a letter to Secretary of the Army Pace yesterday McCarthy declared:

"If someone is actually stealing secret decoded messages from the Pentagon and handing them to Pearson the lives of many of our young men and the security of this nation are in grave danger."

S. L. Kalunite Plant to Work Uranium Ores

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 10 (AP)—The $5,000,000 kalunite plant in Salt Lake City will be converted into a refinery for uranium ores, it was disclosed in a joint announcement by Jack R. Simplot, Idaho industrialist, and officials of the Vitro Chemical company.

Simplot purchased the plant for $752,000 in 1947 from the war assets administration. It was used to manufacture alumina during World war II. Simplot is now turning the operation of the facility over to Vitro, of which he is vice president.

To Stimulate Mining

The development is expected to stimulate production of uranium bearing ores, especially in the Marysvale, Utah, area where development activities are increasing appreciably.

The new plant will start operations in February.

Other Materials

In addition to uranium bearing ores, it will handle other strategic materials and chemical specialties, from intermountain area raw materials.

Vitro also has a large chemical engineering division which is engaged in several projects, including the process development of uranium.

The company did not indicate the number of employes planned but said the payroll would be "substantial."

State Education Board Sets Meet

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—The state board of education plans a budgetary meeting here next Monday, which probably will include conferences with state legislative committees.

The meeting assumed added significance after Gov. Len Jordan's speech to the legislature calling for consolidation of Northern Idaho College of Education with the University of Idaho and consolidation of Southern Idaho College of Education with Idaho State college.

Alton B. Jones, state superintendent of public instruction, commenting on the state board meeting, said "it is anticipated the state board will be invited to discuss budgetary legislative matters with committees of the legislature."

Heyburn Citizens Relate Activities

HEYBURN, Jan. 10—Stevens Heiner who is attending the Utah State Agricultural college, Logan, spent the week-end here with his parents.

Doll Holmes and son, Harold, left Tuesday on a business trip to Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Blincoe returned home Sunday from Salt Lake City.

John Schroeder, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Schroeder, broke his left leg above the ankle while coasting on his sled Sunday afternoon. Last October the boy fell and broke his collarbone.

Assistance in Air, Short Halt And Hank's All-Out for Texas

By HENRY McLEMORE

LUFKIN, Tex.—If you want to meet Mother Nature, shake her hand, and learn how puny man is compared to her, then travel about this country in a light plane.

Flying in a light plane, and flying in a giant commercial plane, is as different as night and day, if not more so.

McLemore

The Connies and DC-6s and the C-54s either can bore through the bad weather that Ma Nature provides on occasion or fly above it.

But the little plane has to be careful. The Pilot—mine is Bill France—has to watch the clouds more carefully than any painter or photographer ever did. This is our first day out of Dallas, on the way to Miami, and we're spending the night here.

There are two passengers with France—myself and Bill Slater—and Slater just said the truest words I have ever heard.

He said, in effect, that the owner and pilot of a private plane never is lonesome once his wheels clear the runway and his ship is airborne. From that second, until his wheels touch the runway of the town of his destination, there are thousands of men holding his hand, interested in his welfare, and giving him by radio and radio telephone all the knowledge they have—and for free.

We had planned to make Miami the same day we left Dallas. But Ma Nature cooked up hail, thunder, lighting, rain and clouds darker than the inside of a watch pocket. If we hadn't had help from the ground, the chances are our closest of kin now would be standing in line at insurance offices.

Straight up from the ground—and welcome as a check from home—came the weather reports and advice from the CAA. The ceiling is this and that in front. A Connie reports violent turbulence here. Ice conditions exist at 4,000 feet at this point. It would be wise if you didn't try to pass through the thunderheads at this point.

It was as comforting as a light in your room at night when you were a baby. And all the time you knew that if you didn't reach the destination you had filed in your flight plan within a decent time, all ships would be looking for you.

So, when the boys on the ground told us to come down at Lufkin, we came down. The weather was decent here. A high ceiling, and good visibility, but we wouldn't have known about Lufkin if our friends on the ground had not been interested in us, and saw to it that we knew where to go.

I'm glad we came down in Lufkin. It's in Texas, and Texas is always full of surprises. Texas never does things halfway. The airport at Lufkin is big enough for a city ten times its size. Just a bit of proof that Lufkin goes in for optimism and is confident that in a few years it will be as big as Washington or any other town you can name.

The airport is about 10 miles outside of town. Lufkin wants room to grow. It has hotels enough to handle an American Legion convention, and the Angelina is the kind of hotel you'd expect in a metropolis. Air-conditioned throughout, service of any sort around the clock, and a staff which would welcome the duke and duchess as graciously and properly as any hotel in New York, Cairo, London or Paris.

It would do Americans good to make at least one trip a year to Texas. The people are solid. Texas has faith in itself and America. No talk of taking a brushoff from any other country out here. Nothing is impossible to Texans. They won't admit that anything is impossible. The governor of Texas bet the Brazos river that Texas would beat Tennessee in the Cotton bowl game.

My guess is that Texans will find some way to deliver Brazos to Tennessee.

Yes, a tremendous state, Texas, and peopled with the kind of people who founded this country.

NICE's Chief Raps Jordan Merger Plan

LEWISTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—President Glenn W. Todd of Northern Idaho College of Education last night labeled as "destructive action taken in panic" Gov. Len Jordan's proposal to dissolve NICE.

The governor recommended to the new legislature yesterday that the functions of NICE be taken over by the University of Idaho at Moscow as an economy measure.

Proof Needed

Todd said: "Before a legislature could close an institution we would expect it to have indisputable proof either that the state no longer required its services or that it had failed to discharge the duties for which it was created.

"Such proof cannot be produced as an argument for closing Northern Idaho College of Education. This college has supplied more teachers for Idaho schools over a 50-year period than has any other institution.

School Growing

"It is growing in enrollment and in output. Its growth continues even in this year when almost all other colleges have lost in enrollment. We have a record for quality training, for economy in state expenditures and for low cost to students that few colleges can match.

"No destructive action taken in panic and in the fears of a war period is economy. Such temporary conditions cannot be allowed to destroy the very foundations of our Ameri*can life. This college* well demonstrated its ability to serve in the last war and it kept strong for the postwar service demanded of it.

"The need for more trained teachers has become a national crisis, but the problems ahead for Idaho schools are far greater than anything we have known. Of all times, this would be the one when a move to close our doors would be false economy and a crime against the children living on our farms and in our villages and cities."

Events for Carey Related by People

CAREY, Jan. 10—Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilde, Moore, Sunday visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Wilde.

Robert Eaby, Salt Lake City, and Phillip Maycock, Cheney, Wash., are visiting friends in Carey.

A children's dance was held Saturday afternoon at the LDS recreation hall. Mrs. O. L. Justesen was in charge. Dances will be held every two weeks and are designed to teach dancing and to provide social contact for younger groups of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Baird and son have returned from a trip to California. During their stay there they attended a family reunion which honored the 84th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Nona Phippen, former Carey pioneer resident, who now resides in Alhambra, Calif. Carl Phippen, Carey, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Baird to California to attend the reunion.

Explorer Scouts went on a sleigh-riding party Saturday evening. Clyde Stewart, leader, accompanied the boys and later took them to his home for a chili supper.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Elmer Bennett have received word that their grandson, Rickey Bennett, 2, Poca*tello, underwent an operation* Saturday. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Monte Bennett.

Mrs. Della Webb has received word of the birth of a granddaughter on Jan. 4 to her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clair E. Mitchell, Pocatello.

Mrs. Ira Eldredge left Sunday for Salt Lake City where she underwent eye surgery Tuesday at St. Mark's hospital.

House Committee Begins Inquiry in Disputed Election

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—A committee of the Idaho house of representatives has begun work on a contested seat in the delegation from Kootenai county.

Contest proceedings were instituted by Republican Louis P. Larson against Democrat Sam Eastman, certified by the county canvassing board as the successful candidate.

The committee, headed by Rep. R. H. Young, Jr., R., Canyon, held a long session yesterday planning procedure policies, then went into a night session to consider testimony and material impounded in connection with the contest.

Material held by the secretary of state was turned over to the special committee which consists of three Republicans and two Democrats.

Committee sessions were closed to all except interested house members and witnesses during their testimony.

Kiwanis Chairman Named in Jerome

JEROME, Jan. 10—Duties of committee chairman were outlined by Frank Humbach, newly elected president of Jerome Kiwanis club, at a meeting of the club Monday noon.

Committee chairmen appointed by Humbach include Daryl Keck, boys and girls work; Kenneth Blake, underprivileged children; Donald Taylor, agriculture and conservation; Theron Ward, public and business affairs; Harold Otto, support of churches; Henry B. Pharris, achievement report; F. R. Mann, at*tendance and membership*; Fred Gruel, finance; Ben Thrall, house; Earl C. Greenwalt, sr., inter-club relations; Dale Vining, Kiwanis education and fellowship; Sylvan Jeppesen, laws and regulations; Charles Sieber, program and music; and Arvie Finch, reception.

Club members discussed arrangements for the Jerome county soil conservation day which is being sponsored by the club in cooperation with the north side soil conservation district. The day is being planned for late February or early March. Outstanding speakers and entertainment for Jerome county farmers interested in conservation is being arranged by Don Taylor, chairman of the agriculture committee. All service clubs in Jerome have been contacted to assist with the arrangements.

Quads Are Born To Michigan Pair

PONTIAC, Mich., Jan. 10 (AP)—Quadruplets were born today to Mrs. Anne Rosebush, 34, wife of a 36-year-old stonemason.

St. Joseph's Mercy hospital re*ported the* two boys and two girls and their mother were "doing fine." The couple has four other children.

Sister M. Philippa, hospital administrator, said the infants, born by caesarian section, were placed in an incubator immediately and would not be weighed until they were a few days old.

She said, however, that the babies were "good sized" and estimated they weighed 4½ to 5 pounds each.

They are Michigan's second living set of quadruplets. The only others are the Morlok girls of Lansing, now 20 years old.

B-29 Beats Off Attack of New Red Jet Craft

TOKYO, Jan. 10 (UP)—A lone B-29 Superfortress fought off an estimated 15 Russian-type jet fighter planes in a running battle over northwest Korea today and probably destroyed one of them. The B-29 escaped unscathed.

The Superfort, crippled by engine trouble, dropped out of bombing formation over the Yalu river city of Sinuiju and the enemy jets moved in for the kill.

Met Withering Blast

They came in toward the tail of the big plane only to be met by a withering blast of 50-caliber machine gun bullets from the automatic gun turrets.

After the first pass, the pilot, Lieut. Dale J. Younger, Cameron, Mo., maneuvered the bomber to keep his gunners on target.

9-Minute Battle

The running battle lasted for about nine minutes and Lieutenant Younger eased the disabled plane down into a haze. The MIGs peeled *off and refused to follow the bat*tling bomber into the clouds.

When the plane was safely back at its base, the crew members said a series of machinegun bursts severely damaged one enemy jet that was claimed as a "probable."

Cruelty Charged In Wife's Reply To Divorce Suit

Charging multiple instances of cruel and inhuman treatment, Helen Warberg filed a cross-complaint and answer in district court Tuesday to her husband's divorce action.

Paul A. Warberg, her husband, filed his second complaint for divorce last Tuesday. Previously he sought a divorce May 24, 1949, but the couple was reconciled and the case was dismissed with prejudice.

In addition to a divorce, Mrs. Warberg asks $250 temporary support money and $250 permanent alimony, $1,250 for prosecuting the action, $1,500 for attorney's fees and a restraining order preventing her husband from molesting her and from encumbering or disposing of their property.

The court is asked to decree that the DeLuxe Motor lodge, 761 Main avenue west, and lots one, two, three and four, block 98, are community property. The value of the property is estimated in excess of $50,000, according to the complaint.

While the Warbergs have had no children by this marriage which took place July 18, 1942, both have children by previous marriages.

Lawrence B. Quinn is the wife's attorney. The husband is represented by Smith and Jacob.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

All sensible parents teach their children to save part of every bit of money they earn or are given. Saving is not only a protection of material life, it is a discipline in self-control, training in understanding the basic elements in successful living.

While we teach this excellent discipline we must always keep well to the front the idea that it is for some definite purpose and see to it that the money is spent for that purpose. Saving can become a bondage, an actual evil, unless it is guided by this principle.

True, few young people are inclined to over-saving, but even a few misguided ones would be too many. And all ought to know why they are saving and really want to win the end in view.

One boy, trained to save part of his allowance, decided he wanted to buy a sailboat. For two or three years he saved every penny, worked like a beaver until he had the money for the boat in the bank. He decided that this was really too much money to put in a boat when he could just as well use the boats of his friends who were always glad to have his help. So the money stayed in the bank.

Meantime he was treated to sodas, candy and the like by his friends. The fact he could not return the treat and it bothered him, so he asked his mother if she could not give a spread for his friends at the close of the summer.

"Do you intend to pay for this?" Asked his mother, who had begun to think that her boy's saving attitude might not be just what it should be.

"Aw, gee, I thought—well, how much will it be?"

"Make out your menu; buy the things you want, and I'll do the rest," said she.

It was painful to see that boy try to whittle down the cost of his spread, but his mother stood firmly to her decision. When he struck out ice cream by the quart and put down cones, when layer cake went out to make place for crackers, his mother said, "Do you want to do this? Do you want to be as cheap as you can possibly be and yet hope your friends will think you generous and hospitable and a good friend? Because they won't. It's all right and good to save but not at the price of your character. Think it over."

That was a fine party. The ice cream was homemade with real cream; the cake was four stories high with frosting inch thick and the fruit drink was tops.

"I'm glad you had a good time giving your friends a good time," his mother said. "You have to remember that giving is the open road to having, always. Sharing is the only way of becoming rich in any way worth while. And you still have plenty, haven't you?" He had.

To bring up a child in the way he should go is every parent's responsibility. Dr. Patri has written leaflet, P-16, "A Parent's Prayer," which is full of wise and guidance. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, care Times-News, P. O. Box 99, Station O, New York 19, N. Y.

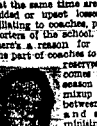
Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By BOB GILLIAM

The question has been raised why a few schools in Magic Valley are playing their reserves or second stringers mainly in certain games and at the same time are absorbing one-sided or upset losses that are humiliating to some players and supporters of the school.

There's a reason for the action on the part of coaches to play their reserves and it all comes about this season through a mixup in signals between coaches and school administrators.

A state athletic rule says no high school may participate in more than 20 games before entering a district basketball tournament. The schools that have scheduled more games than they can play with the entire squad participating are lopping off big boys on certain games to complete their commitments.



Gilliam

Another question is raised there on why coaches scheduled more games than they could play with first string men seeing action on every night? Here coaches are laying the blame squarely on the shoulders of the Fourth District Administrators association.

Along in the middle of the football season, basketball coaches got together and devised a plan for a district tournament that would eliminate the old sub-district tournament plan in class B action.

To take the place of the four sub-district tourneys, these same sub-districts were formed into four leagues. Squads would play a double round-robin and the teams with the best won and lost record in each league would enter the district event.

On the basis of this plan, coaches want ahead and signed contracts for games with teams in their leagues and took on other games in the place of the old that would be played in a sub-district meet.

Everything was in good order, so the coaches say, until the executive committee met at Hansen about two months ago and decided sub-district tournaments would be played regardless of what the coaches wanted. The general feeling was the administrators were running the schools and not the coaches, which is true enough.

Also, although it was never admitted as the prime reason, administrators knew the sub-district tournaments would mean little moneymaking propositions that would produce extra revenue for the schools. This is a point an administrator seldom denies.

The coaches were left holding the bag. Out of a blue sky on the eve of the basketball season they learned sub-district tourneys must be played and they also realize they have over-committed themselves for games.

Some schools canceled games by mutual agreement, but a half dozen schools were not able to cancel enough games and must play reserve in some of their contests.

The action of the administrators has rubbed the fur of more than one coach the wrong way. Some have sparks in their eyes and a couple we know are getting out of their present positions at the end of the school year.

As a couple of the members of the coaching fraternity pointed out, they get blamed when their team is whipped, not the administrators. Since coaching is their bread and butter and success in the profession is measured with wins and championships, coaches are not "taking to undue meddling in athletics" by superintendents and principals.

A high good old-fashioned cooperation between the administrators and the coaches probably would make everybody happier.

Filer Trips Buhl 48-42 as Rupert Sails by Oakley

Coach Gene Killoy's Filer Wildcats rolled over the Buhl Indians 48-42 at Filer Tuesday night in a Big Seven conference game that saw Buhl come back with a roar in the last quarter after trailing badly for most of the game. Other action in the Seven loop saw the potent Rupert Pirates race to a 69-47 victory over Oakley. Close games were the rule in several of the class B contests that saw Declo nip Castleford 35-34, Carey shade Richfield 31-29, Gooding State edge Fairfield 68-62, Eden stop Hansen 40-18, Kimberly swing back into form by walloping Hazelton 75-46, Wendell dump King Hill 44-25 and Acequia defeat Albion 45-34.

The Wildcats raced away for an 18-7 lead at the end of the first quarter and held a 34-18 margin at the half. Buhl trailed 43-24 going into the final quarter, but rallied furiously to score within six points of the Wildcats as the game ended.

Garry Allison led Filer's scoring and copped high honors with 15 points. Denny paced Buhl with 13.

Buhl won the junior varsity preliminary game 42-33.

Coach George Kloty's Rupert Pirates built up a 33-14 lead at the half and pushed the margin along to 50-30 as the final quarter started to down Oakley at Rupert.

Coach Virgil Wolves took an 11-7 lead at the quarter, but Declo pushed in front 17-13 at the half.

Turner paced Declo to the win with 17 points. Dick Flynn shined for Castleford on defense.

With five seconds to go Green sank a winning basket to give Carey a thrilling 31-29 victory over Richfield in a nip and tuck and hard-played game between two old rivals at Richfield.

It was a hectic finale. With 10 seconds left in the game and Carey ahead 29-28, Silvey stole the ball from Carey and raced the length of the floor for a lay-up shot. He was fouled as he missed the basket. He sank one of the free throws to tie the game at 29-29. Then Green iced the game for Carey.

Miller also shined in the game, tallied by Green all evening. It was shot from mid-floor in desperation.

Richfield will entertain Middleton Thursday night.

Gooding State came from behind in the last quarter, paced by the hot shooting of Smith, to edge Fairfield at Gooding. Smith scored 26 points for the Redskins, 12 of which came in the last half rally.

Fred Bauscher, ace Fairfield forward, followed with 24 points. He left the game on personal fouls early in the fourth quarter. The Indians also were hampered with two other starters fouled out. Gooding State lost two men.

Fairfield won the junior varsity game 34-31.

Kimberly trailed 28-24 at the half, but Coach Paul McCloy's team staged an inspired second half rally to subdue Hazelton 75-46 at Hazelton. The Bulldogs scored 51 points in the fast finish to only 20 for Hazelton.

Peterson paced the Bulldog attack with 18 points, while Vance scored a like number for the badgers. Kimberly also won the jayvee game 30-26.

Eden came from behind in the last half to defeat Hansen 40-18 in a hard-played game in the small Hansen gymnasium. The Huskies led 23-17 at the half, but Eden went ahead 32-30 as the final frame started.

Eden also captured the jayvee game 54-42. Morrison topped Eden with 20 points, 12 for New and 11 for Prior of Hansen.

Wendell wrecked by King Hill 44-25 at Wendell. Barrus paced Coach Keith Sims' Trojans with 14 points. Gilbert was high for King Hill with eight. Barrus also looked good for the winners on the backboards.

In a junior high school game, King Hill dropped Wendell 23-17.

Acequia defeated Albion 45-34 at Albion in what was a nip and tuck game until the final three minutes. Acequia held a 19-17 lead at the half.

Sharper team work in handling the ball and the backboard play of the Indians netted Coach Harry Dersnah's squad the victory.

Acequia also won the junior varsity game.

UTAH OPENS GYM

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 10 (U.P.)—University of Utah board of regents promised Brigham Young university that the Provo school can use the Ute fieldhouse for one of its home games in the Skyline Six basketball conference rate.

Fish Seasons Are Aired by Game Board

BOISE, Jan. 10 (U.P.)—The state fish and game commission Tuesday was nearing the end of its job of setting 1951 fishing seasons and bag limits, expected to be roughly similar to the 1950 regulations.

The commission held preliminary discussions this afternoon with game department personnel on fishing regulations and a rough draft of the 1951 seasons and bag limits was being prepared for final consideration tomorrow.

A department spokesman said three Democrats, Merwin Mendivil of Bancock county and N. O. Vandenberg of Boundary county.

Also conferring with the commissioners on matters of forest use was Chet Olson, regional U. S. forester from Ogden, Utah.

Ed Williams Keeps Title In Bout Here

Haddock Eddie Williams defended his Pacific Coast light heavyweight wrestling championship here Tuesday night by defeating Dale Haddock two out of three falls in an action-packed match that highlighted the weekly wrestling program presented by the Twin Falls VFW.

Williams, tricky and fast, had to be at his best to defeat the powerful and rough Haddock. The bout delighted a near-capacity house in the Radio Rondevoo.

Williams captured the first fall when he applied his favorite hold, the scissors-crotch hammerlock, and forced the former body guard for Henry Ford to give up.

Haddock came back with a back breaker that forced the champ to holler "uncle." Haddock was applying the same back buster when the deciding fall came. Williams countered by using a crooked-arm weapons to win the bout and retain his silver championship belt.

Williams is recognized as coast champion by wrestling commissions in California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Nevada.

Jack Pappenheim and Mike Nastarian wrestled to a draw in a 45-minute semi-final. Both grapplers won one fall.

The opener saw Danno McDonald defeat Leo Jensen with a drop kick and a body press.

Next week's card will feature a six-man battle royal, promoter Tex Hagar announced.

Navy Makes Move To Lighten Slate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (U.P.)—Navy has made another move to lessen the strength of its football schedules by agreeing to drop Indiana in 1951.

The Navy, prior to eastern power [illegible] will replace Notre Dame or Northwestern, both of which will be dropped.

Ace SICE Center

Loyd Buettgenbach, star center for the Southern Idaho College of Education basketball team, has been a mainstay this season for Coach Ernie Craner's squad. Buettgenbach, who stands six feet, three inches and weighs 200 pounds, has been a leading scorer and top man for sweeping the backboards. The powerful Nehalem, Ore., student also was a starling end on the SICE football team. (Photo by Jim Parrott—staff engraving)

SICE Ringmen Open Season at Kimberly

KIMBERLY, Jan. 10—The lid will come off the 1951 collegiate boxing season in Magic Valley Jan. 18 when the Southern Idaho College of Education Panthers, an annual ring power in the intermountain area, will take on West Texas State college.

It will be the first match of the season for the veteran boxing squad coached by Don Requa. In West Texas, SICE will be tackling one of the up and coming college ring teams in the country. Boxing has been made a major sport at the Dillon, Tex., college.

Seven matches will highlight the card pairing fighters from the 125-pound weight class through the heavyweight division. The bouts consist of three two-minute rounds, usually packed full of action from the young ringmen.

The matches are being sponsored here jointly by the Kimberly Booster's club and the Kimberly high school. Proceeds earned by the group will go into Kimberly's summer recreation fund.

Louis Denton, Kimberly resident and former Pacific coast collegiate boxing champion from the University of Idaho, will be general chairman of the program. Denton also has coached boxing in several Idaho high schools.

Denton announced no reserved seats will be sold, but 2,000 seats will be available the night of the fight at the Kimberly high school gymnasium. The gymnasium will be fitted with a raised ring. Denton said every seat in the gymnasium, one of the finest in Idaho, offers a good vantage spot.

Requa is rounding an experienced team into shape at Albion. SICE lost few men off the squad that posted a good record last season.

Wichita's Coach Flays Hank Iba

WICHITA, Kans., Jan. 10 (U.P.)—Discontented Wichita State Coach Ken Gunning says you need football gear to stand up against the unbeaten Oklahoma Aggies, the nation's number two basketball team.

"Too much rough stuff," moaned Gunning, whose Wichita university Shockers dropped a 75-45 contest to Coach Hank Iba's Aggies in a Missouri Valley conference meeting at Stillwater, Okla.

"I don't know what he means," retorted the Aggie maestro who has won a hatful of national and sectional championships through the years.

"When the Aggies come to Wichita," said Gunning, "we're thinking seriously about suiting up in full football equipment.

Two of the Wichita Huskies, John Friedersdorf and Hank Himingway were crippled in the game, Gunning said. Friedersdorf was "kneed intentionally at least two times" on defense, the coach added.

Bradley Holds Top Spot in Ca Poll as Wyoming Finishes Ten

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—Bradley university held firm to the No. 1 position in the Associated Press basketball standings today while Columbia created the only break in the first Bradley, riding the season's longest winning streak, drew 126 first place votes 252 sports writers and broadcasters participating in the weekly Associated Press poll. The pride of Peoria, Ill., amassed a total of 2,320 points, the year's highest, to take a 509 point lead over Hank Iba's hold the ball Oklahoma Aggies.

Points are awarded on the basis of 10 for a first place vote, nine for a second and on down the line.

The week's activities followed so closely to form that voters left nine of the first 10 teams in the standings undisturbed from last week.

After Bradley and Oklahoma A and M came Kentucky, Long Island university, St. Louis, Indiana and North Carolina State in that order. Columbia's surprising Lions, 85-45 victors over Cornell last Saturday, moved into the No. 8 spot as a new tenant, supplanting Villanova, which dropped to 16th. Villanova lost its first game to Fordham, 58-54.

Kansas State and once beaten Wyoming clung to the ninth and 10th positions, barely shading St. John's of Brooklyn and University of Washington.

Bradley won two games since the last poll, beating Detroit, 99-63 and Drake 74-56, to increase its victory string to 18 games.

Winner of the final AP poll last year, the Braves have perhaps their toughest game so far this year when they meet St. John's in Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

The Oklahoma Aggies collected 20 first-place votes and a total of 1,811 points. Also unbeaten in 13 games, they play Tulsa Thursday and Drake Saturday.

Third place Kentucky, beaten only by St. Louis in the Sugar Bowl semi-finals, had a total of 1,754 points.

Top Ten
1. Bradley (15-0)	2,320
2. Oklahoma A and M (13-0)	1,811
3 Kentucky (9-1)	1,754
4. Long Island (8-0)	1,687
5. St. Louis (11-2)	1,553
6. Indiana (8-1)	741
7. No. Carolina State (13-1)	738
8. Columbia (8-0)	532
9. Kansas State (12-1)	507
10. Wyoming (12-1)	402

The second 10: St. John's (10-2), Washington, (7), Southern California (11-1), 13; Illinois (8-2), 14; Duquesne (10-1), 15; Villanova (10-1), 16; Kansas (9-2), 17; Toledo (11-1), 18; LaSalle (9-1), 19, and Princeton (8-0), 20.

Others receiving votes include UCLA, Idaho, Seattle, Brigham Young, Whitworth.

Utah Cage Coach Is Hospitalized

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 10 (AP)—Coach Vadal Peterson will not accompany his University of Utah basketball team on the toughest road trip of the season this weekend.

Peterson received a cracked sacroiliac while participating in a pre-season tournament in Denver over the Christmas holidays. He will undergo surgery and will be benched for at least a week.

Assistant Coach Sherman (Pete) Couch will direct the Utes in their two-game conference road series against Denver and Wyoming universities.

Peterson, dean of conference coaches, was hospitalized for most of the basketball season two years ago. An operation at that time removed pressure on some of the spinal discs.

Bengals Drop Second Game In Colorado

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 10 (AP)—With George Sweeney hitting 31 points, Colorado college made it two in a row over Idaho State Tuesday night 84-62 in Rocky Mountain conference basketball.

Victory leaves CC tigers on top of the conference with three victories and no losses.

Defending champion Montana State has two wins and no defeats and will play here next Monday and Tuesday night.

Sweeney scored 21 of his points in the second half with seven straight points coming with eight minutes remaining.

The score was tied five times in the first half and twice in the second half with Idaho State finally grabbing a 46-44 lead on a basket by Dewey Cunningham with 10 and a half minutes to go. Sweeney then went into action with Kelly Ferguson also adding two baskets to give Colorado college a six-point lead.

With two minutes left, Lyle Andersen and Ed Nelson combined for narrow Colorado college's margin to a point. Jack Pfeiffer then drove in for a layup to give CC a 63-60 lead. Byron Jones hit on a set shot for Idaho State, narrowing gap to one point again, and Sweeney followed with a free throw to raise the count to 64-62 CC froze the ball for the last minute.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—
Stocks—Lower; selling wave carries prices down.
Bonds—Mixed; some selling in rails.
Cotton—Quiet; mill buying, liquidation.
Chicago:
Wheat—Easy; hedging increases.
Corn—Easy; believe cash prices close to potential ceilings.
Oats—Easy; showed more resistance than corn.
Hogs—Slow and steady to 25 cents lower; top $21.10.
Cattle—Unevenly strong to 50 cents lower.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—The stock market was rocked by a selling wave today that piled up losses of more than $2 a share.

There was a partial recovery near the close of trading cutting back extreme declines that ran to as much as $3 a share at times.

The break came in the final hour. Orders to sell piled up so fast that the quotations tape rapidly fell behind floor trading. At the close the tape was 10 minutes late.

Volume came to an estimated 4,000,000 shares, one of the heaviest days since the start of the Korean war.

The slump climaxed a slow accumulation of losses throughout most of the day.

The day started with the market rising gently in almost all sections. Within a short time, however, spotty selling turned the market into an irregular price pattern.

On the downside were Bethlehem Steel, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Studebaker, Southern Railway, Chesapeake & Ohio, Southern Pacific, Missouri Pacific preferred, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Zenith Radio, American Woolen, Dow Chemical, Homestake Mining, American Smelting, Texas Co., Trans-World Air Lines and Pan American Airways.

Seven stitches were needed to close the left eyelid and cheek cut. The boy was injured when hit by a swing while playing. He was able to return to school Tuesday.

Grain

CHICAGO, Jan. 10 (AP)—The grain market's calm was interrupted by a brief, sharp selling drive midway in the session on the board of trade today.

This dropped prices of most cereals 1 to 2 cents, and they failed in subsequent efforts to recover the lost ground.

There was no particular news to inspire the selling, although a variety of items on price controls appeared in the Washington news while the market was in session. These concerned livestock and meat.

Wheat closed 1 to 2½ lower, March 2.46¼; corn was 1 to 1½ lower, March 1.78; oats were ⅝-¾ lower, March 98; rye was 2 to 2½ lower, May 1.78-1.77¾; soybeans were 1½-2½ lower, January 3.11½-3.12¼, and lard was 22 cents lower to 2 cents per 100 lbs. higher, January 19.07.

Suit Filed Over Area Auto Crash

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—A New Jersey man has filed a $13,774.50 damage suit in federal district court against the federal government as the result of a highway accident Aug. 16, 1949, near Burley.

Plaintiff in the action was Stanley Lyte, Elizabeth, N. J., who said his own truck was demolished and he received injuries in a collision with a department of interior truck driven by James McElwain.

Lyte charged McElwain pulled across the highway as he started to pass the government truck, causing the collision.

PLEAS DEFERRED

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP) — Clemency pleas from two Idaho prison inmates convicted of murder and manslaughter are being deferred by the pardon board pending more information on the cases. The board continued its hearings today.

lege's requests would be financed with $2,187,613.40 from the general fund, $168,060 from local income and $32,000 from endowment income.

In addition the governor approved expenditures of $1,372,421 for agricultural research; $1,066,664 for agriculture extension work; $100,000 for special research; $47,055 for pure seed research, and $13,000 for rodent control research. All are conducted by the university.

Here are the budgets for other state institutions:

Deaf and blind school, Gooding—Requested, $546,879; available in current biennium, $486,942; approved by governor, $546,879.

Industrial training school, St. Anthony—Requested, $502,607; available in current biennium, $482,550; approved by governor, $547,007.

Tuberculosis hospital, Gooding—Requested, $1,057,450; available $640,612.75; approved, $811,720. The governor said his approval assumes the operation of a 90-bed hospital with present buildings.

State hospital north—Requested, $768,550; available, $730,000; approved, $878,705 [sic: 445; approved, $878,705].

Jordan Backs Austerity Aim With Cost Cut

aside for an emergency civil defense fund.

In estimating revenues, the governor said approximately one sixth less was anticipated on income taxes than in the current biennium. The reasons, Jordan explained, were that increased federal taxes would reduce the state take and a poor-profit crop year would cut down tax payments by farmers.

The governor sliced $3,000,000 off the $9,000,000 asked for the public school equalization. He said this was possible because of a new transportation formula adopted by the state board of education which places more of the transportation burden on the school districts. He also disapproved an appropriation request of $3,220,679 for the teachers' retirement fund.

All told, the governor allowed $15,687,137 out of the general fund for the education budget.

For public assistance, the governor allowed $13,631,680 in general fund requests—just about what was sought.

Seizure Takes Life of Famed U. S. Novelist

swiftly Lewis had no chance to say anything before he died.

Attendants said Lewis had been quite cheerful during his stay at the clinic atop Monte Maris in the northern part of the city. He rested comfortably and did no reading and no writing and received no mail during his confinement.

The U. S. embassy was notified of his death and was asked to contact his brother in Sauk Center, Minn., his birthplace.

Lewis was a brilliant satirist of the American scene and his best known works which sold millions of copies included "Babbitt," for which he won the Nobel prize, "Arrowsmith," "Dodsworth" and "Main Street."

Bids for Gravel Work on Airport For Buhl Opened

BUHL, Jan. 10 — Contract for gravelling the taxi strip at the Buhl airport has been recommended let to the Buhl Concrete and Construction company by the city council.

Bids on the work were opened Tuesday night at a meeting of the council. The bid of the Buhl company was $2,239.80. The work entails excavating 60 cubic yards of dirt and refilling with 1,850 cubic yards of gravel.

Other bids on the work were Reynolds, Walker, Inc., Twin Falls, for Sumner Sand and Gravel, Buhl, $2,953.40; and Duffy Reed Construction company, Twin Falls, for Ivan Winn, Buhl, $3,656.76.

The council will recommend to the CAA, which is furnishing $2,493 for the work, that the bid of the Buhl Concrete and Construction company be accepted. Since the amount to be furnished by the CAA is greater than the amount bid the balance will be used on other airport work, city officials said.

Buhl also expects to make application for airport lights.

The council Tuesday night renewed the plumbing license of Ivan Nippen and the taxicab license of M. O'Donnell.

Mrs. Sorenson Is Paid Final Honor

reation facilities. Smith said one should be located in the northeast section of the city and the other in the northwest portion.

Other improvements planned during the coming year are fencing and resurfacing three tennis courts at Harmon park, construct barbeque pits at Harmon - Jaycee and South parks, oil surface the spectators' area in front of the band shell, build a large dirt mound at Harmon-Jaycee park for children to coast sleds in winter, relocate playground equipment at Harmon park, build a natural ice skating area, install permanent horseshoe pitching facilities, provide lighting facilities at South park and set aside areas and equipment for the exclusive use of small children.

Explains Plans

Smith explained these planned and proposed improvements depend on the availability of materials and equipment during the emergency.

He called for assistance in broadening the recreation program in Twin Falls for both children and adults. He said civic, service and other organizations should participate in the planning and financing of recreational activities.

He said a recreational planning advisory committee has been set up under the chairmanship of Charles Allen and Robert Warberg to study recreation and park needs and improvements.

Introduced to Club

Parks Supt. Pete Hiskey attended the meeting with Smith. They were introduced by Al Nelson, program chairman and city commissioner of parks and recreation.

Dr. Gordon Tobin reported on the progress of the January membership drive. The Lions club has been divided into two teams headed by Ben Aspey and Roger Marsh to secure new members.

William Slimp announced the annual charter night program and banquet has been set for 7 p.m. Feb. 7 at the Turf club.

Vice President Ver Cox presided at the meeting in the absence of President Victor Fillet.

Youth Leader to Speak at Meeting

BURLEY, Jan. 10 — Mrs. Paul Whitney, authority on juvenile protection and youth service, will address the Burley-Rupert Knife and Fork club at a dinner meeting next Tuesday at South Idaho College of Education, Albion.

Following dinner in the college dining hall at 7 p. m. Mrs. Whitney will speak at Bocock hall on "Educational Profit and Loss."

Mrs. Whitney formerly was chairman of the juvenile protection and youth service of the New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers, and before that she served as student-counselor at a high school in Syracuse, N. Y., for 12 years.

She was once the director of an experimental playground in Milwaukee and in 1949 she taught in her special field at Vassar.

Man Faces Trial Over Charge He Deserted Family

Lewis McCallister, 33, Twin Falls, waived preliminary hearing on an indictable misdemeanor Wednesday in justice court and was bound over to district court under $500 bond.

McCallister is charged with wilful desertion and neglect of his wife and two minor children, 7 and 11 years old. The complaint charges McCallister abandoned his family Dec. 20 without providing means for adequate food and shelter. He has been making his home at the Perrine hotel and is employed by a local taxicab company.

McCallister is being held in the county jail in lieu of bond.

If found guilty of the charge McCallister is subject to punishment of $500 or one year in the county jail or both. He was arrested at 5:40 p.m. Tuesday by city police at his place of employment on a complaint signed by Mrs. Hilda McCallister, 345 Fifth avenue west.

Man Hurt as Car Skids Into Pole

SHOSHONE, Jan. 10—Gilbert B. Centers, Richfield, formerly of Twin Falls, was injured slightly when his automobile went out of control on highway 93 as it was entering Shoshone early Wednesday morning and crashed into a power pole.

Centers, who received a sprained left knee, was treated in a doctor's office in Shoshone. His automobile was damaged extensively. The accident occurred as Centers started to make a right turn into Shoshone from the highway. The vehicle skidded 200 feet before hitting the pole.

The mishap was investigated by Sheriff Earl Clayton.

Meeting Slated

JEROME, Jan. 10—A meeting for farmers growing red clover and alfalfa seed and alfalfa hay will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Jerome courthouse. Roland Portman, extension entomologist, will discuss insect control. In 1950 alfalfa weevil did an average of $500 damage on each Jerome county farm. A similar meeting will be held at the Legion hall in Hunt at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

VFW Leader Hits Reserve Notice Policy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP) — Omar B. Ketchum, legislative director of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said yesterday most reservists are "like fleas on a hot skillet" because they are subject to call on short notice.

Testifying before a house armed services subcommittee investigating reserve policy, Ketchum said defense chiefs should be able to say well in advance just what reserve units will be needed and when.

He proposed 90 days as "fair notice."

Joins Appeal

Ketchum joined with Clarence G. Adamy, legislative director of AMVETS, in citing cases of reservists undergoing hardship—discrimination in employment, for example — because of uncertainty whether they would be called to active duty.

Other developments yesterday included:

1. The navy announced it will order "47,000 enlisted reservists to active duty during April, May and June. The revised quota is 32,000 more than the navy had expected to call during the three-month period.

Volunteer Calling

2. The navy said it will accept only 21,200 volunteer recruits during the rest of January because the training centers at Newport, R. I., Great Lakes, Ill., and San Diego, Calif., have reached their manpower limits.

The air force announced similar action Monday. It said only 1,900 recruits could be sent daily to Lakeland air force base in Texas until something in the spring.

Club Committees Selected in Buhl

BUHL, Jan. 10—Committees for the Buhl Kiwanis club have been appointed by Lloyd Byrne, newly elected president.

The committees include Gordon E. Carlson, chairman; Attie Davis and the Rev. E. H. Weibel, boys and girls; Andy Anderson, chairman; Frank Giese and Everett Babcock, agriculture and conservation; Olin Smith, chairman; Bernard Starr and Frank Squires, public affairs; Dr. M. A. Drake, chairman; E. M. Tomlison and the Rev. Robert Mass, church support; R. K. Thomsen, chairman; Maurice Eckert and L. E. Byrne, achievement.

K. N. Pearson, chairman; Burnard Albertson and Marion Ambrose, attendance and membership; William Roberts and W. H. Bosworth, finance; E. A. Manning, chairman; G. E. Buckendorf and R. W. Coad, house; Dr. F. A. Kallusky, chairman; M. P. Carlson and Jim Berry, inter-club; W. C. Senften, chairman; Frank Squires and M. P. Carlson, Kiwanis education; and Maurice Eckert, chairman; Bob Aiken, Dr. F. A. Kallusky and R. W. Coad, program.

U. P. Car's Visit Set for Jan. 24

The Union Pacific railroad agricultural improvement car will make its visit to the Murtaugh area on Jan. 24 instead of Jan. 23 as originally scheduled, according to Robert D. Kerns, county club agent.

It will be the first visit of the railroad educational unit in the Murtaugh area. Because of the schedule change no definite program has been arranged, Kerns said.

The car has illustrations of the latest developments in the agricultural industry for farmers, 4-H clubs and student groups. Educational films and exhibits are featured.

Boyd Baxter, Union Pacific railroad agricultural agent, is in charge of the unit.

Action Filed Over Promissory Notes

Luke V. Sonner filed suit in district court Tuesday seeking a judgment for $3,262 against Wayne H. Hawley and Katherine B. Hawley based on promissory notes allegedly delivered by the defendants. The parties to the suit are county residents.

According to the complaint, two $500 notes are overdue and interest which has accrued on each amounts to $209. A third note, for $1,200, also is due plus $244 interest. Sonner asks $400 for attorney's fees and seeks an attachment on their property.

—Everett M. Sweeley is Sonner's attorney.

Local Man Faces Trial for Forgery

Thomas F. Ash, Twin Falls, was bound over to district court Monday after waiving a preliminary hearing on a forgery charge. He is being held in the county jail in lieu of $1,500 bond.

Ash was arraigned in justice court in Kimberly where he waived a preliminary hearing on the charge.

Eyes of Accident-Slain Boy, 7, May Bring Sight to Older Girl

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10 (AP) — The eyes of alittle boy were removed a few minutes after he died and have been donated by the child's parents to help save the sight of a teen-age girl unknown to them.

The father and mother, Revner and Norma Koolgaard, were at the hospital bedside Monday night when 7-year-old Stephen died.

He did not regain consciousness after being hit by an automobile last Saturday as he rode his bicycle near his home in a Philadelphia suburb.

A universally hospital mentioned to the grieving parents the possibility of using Stephen's eyes to save another's sight.

The Koolgaards readily consented. "I didn't regard it as a gesture," Koolgaard said. "I believe Stephen would have wanted it that way."

Surgeons removed the child's eyes immediately so they could use the healthy corneas—the "front windows" of the eyes—in a delicate transplanting operation needed by a girl in the hospital.

Dr. Harol G. Scheie, who saved the sight of Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's left eye in northern Burma during World war II, would not disclose the name of his patient.

Nor would he discuss the patient's illness or condition. Mr. and Mrs. Koolgaard were not told the name of the girl, about 19, and they may never know.

Successful use of corneas usually must follow within 48 hours the death of the donor.

Members Okayed By Soroptimists

Two new members were welcomed into the Twin Falls Soroptimist club at the regular luncheon meeting of the group Tuesday. The new members are Mrs. Doris Stradley and Mrs. Mary Salmon.

It was announced that one of the members, Mrs. Winifred Smuin, is moving to Lewiston.

Plans were made to present Marjorie Dickinson, San Francisco, costume vocalist, in a concert here April 10. The concert will be part of the Soroptimist project to raise $500 for a scholarship for a worthy young woman.

It also was announced that Mrs. Helen Bacon, Jerome, will present a book review at the next dinner meeting of the group.

MEETING HELD

FILER, Jan. 10—James K. Bailey, chairman of the genealogy committee of the Filer LDS church, was in charge of the sacrament meeting Sunday. A young people's chorus sang several selections under the direction of Mrs. Roy Kohntopp. Mrs. D. W. Davis was the accompanist. Speakers were Mrs. Kohntopp, George Stringer, LeRoy Stringer and Paul Swartz.
